No 1472/J II

Dated 28 October 1901.

Sir,

I have the honor to invite the attention of Government to certain practices that have been for some time in vogue in thi office, practices which are desirable but for which I can find no Government authority.

2. I refer to the custom of transferring officials from one Jail to another when vacancies arise in any one Jail.

3. Rule 18 of the Jail Manual distinctly implies that each of the Jails is a separate institution, the Superintendents of of which themselves appoint their own subordinates subject to the approval of the Inspector General of Prisons.

4. At the present moment an appointment has to be made in the Central Jail Bangalore, and, according to the custom it should be filled up after a series of transfers between the central and the District Jails of Mysore and Shimoga. If it is not done in this way a hardship will certainly accrue to some of the subordinates in the Jails whose chances of promotion depend upon this method being followed. But as I have said to do so is distinctly against the rules as laid down in the Jail manual.

5. If Government approve of the practice I have referred to being continued I would suggest that rule 18 be altered so as to read as follows " after the word Prisons at the beginning of the 4th line: "provided always that the Inspector General of Prisons, on the occurrence of a vacancy in any of the prisons may if he thinks fit, fill the vacancy by transfering for that purpose an official from either of the other two Jails ar arrange the Staff of all three Jails in such manner as to him best calculated to secure the promotion of the most des ing of the existing staff, and the efficiency of working of the Prisons. He may suspend any officer for misconduct or misdemeanour reporting the matter at once to the Inspector General of Prisons; but he may not dismiss any officer without the previous consent of the Inspector General".

6. I request that if Government approve of my suggestion, very early orders may issue , as there is at present a vacancy to be filled and certain promotions have at the same time to be made.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant

Proceedings of the Government of Mysore, Judicial, dated 25th November 1901.

READ—

Letter No. 1472—J., dated 28th October 1901, from the Inspector General of Prisons in Mysore, to the Secretary to the Government of Mysore.

I have the honor to invite the attention of Government to certain practices that have been for some time in vogue in this office, practices which are desirable, but for which I can find no Government authority.

(2). I refer to the custom of transferring officials from one Jail to another when vacancies arise in any one Jail.

(3). Rule 18 of the Jail Manual distinctly implies that each of the Jails is a separate institution, the Superintendents of which themselves appoint their own subordinates subject to the approval of the Inspector General of Prisons.

(4). At the present moment an appointment has to be made in the Central Jail, Bangalore, and according to the custom, it should be filled up after a series of transfers between the Central and the District Jails of Mysore and Shimoga. If it is not done in this way, a hardship will certainly accrue to some of the subordinates in the Jails, whose chances of promotion depend upon this method being followed. But as I have said, to do so is distinctly against the rules as laid down in the Jail Manual.

(5). If Government approve of the practice I have referred to being continued, I would suggest that Rule 18 be altered so as to read as follows :—"After the word 'Prisons' at the beginning of the 4th line 'provided always that the Inspector General of Prisons, on the occurrence of a vacancy in any of the Prisons, may, if he thinks fit, fill the vacancy by transferring for that purpose an official from either of the other two Jails and re-arrange the staff of all three Jails in such manner as may seem to him best calculated to secure the promotion of the most deserving of the existing staff, and the efficiency of working of the Prisons. He may suspend any officer for misconduct or misdemeanour reporting the matter at once to the Inspector General of Prisons; but he may not dismiss any officer without the previous consent of the Inspector General."

(6). I request that if Government approve of my suggestion, very early orders may issue, as there is at present a vacancy to be filled and certain promotions have at the same time to be made.

No. 8047-48—J. 709, DATED BANGALORE, 25TH NOVEMBER 1901.

ORDER THEREON.—Government do not think that Rule 18 of the Jail Manual precludes the Head of the Department from making transfers of officials from one Jail to another.

2. In order, however, to remove doubts such as those expressed in the letter read above, the alteration proposed by the Inspector General is sanctioned.

3. The following shall be substituted for Rule 18 of the Jail Manual.

"18. He shall make all appointments of subordinate officials of his own authority and of the Jailor and Deputy Jailor subject to the approval of the Inspector General of Prisons; provided always that the latter on the occurrence of a vacancy in any of the Prisons may, if he think fit, fill the vacancy by transferring for that purpose, an official from either of the other two Jails and re-arrange the staff of all three Jails in such manner as may seem to him best calculated to secure the promotion of the most deserving of the existing staff and the efficiency of working of the Prisons.
